The Australian Cricketers Association (ACA) had made a submission to Cricket Australia at the start of the month to lift the ban on Australian captain Smith and vice-captain Warner.

But indications are that they are not ready to bring the trio (Cameron Bancroft included) back to international cricket early.

Therefore, there seems little hope they will play Test cricket before March 29 when the ban on them ends.

"It's a huge factor. This is like the Indian team not having Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli," Ganguly told reporters on the sidelines of a health drink programme of which he is the brand ambassador.

The contest was held across 100 schools in the city and children were asked to bring their dreams to life through creative expression. Students from classes 2-6 participated in the challenge.

Ganguly went through the threatened artworks and selected 11 winners of the contest. The winners took home Rs 1 lakh prize money each.

Ganguly further said that this is India's best chance to win a Test series in Australia, keeping in mind their bowling attack.

India play four Tests starting December 6 at Adelaide Oval. India's best result Down Under was 1-1 in 2003-04 series under Ganguly.

Asked about Kohli's 'leave India' comment to a fan, Ganguly said: "I would not like to comment on that. It's not necessary to react to each and every comment."

Meanwhile, Ganguly also hinted that India pacer Mohammed Shami has expressed his desire to play for Bengal in the next Ranji Trophy game against Kerala.

"Shami has wanted to play. If he plays it's good for the Bengal side. We had written a letter before the first match as well to play him but he had few fitness issues for which he had to go to rehabilitation. If he plays, it's great."

1 brand ambassador 25K run event

Olympics. On his role as International Event Ambassador, Greg commented: "I am honoured to be a part of the Tata Steel Kolkata 25K. The running phenomena in India is so great to see; the challenge and perseverance it takes to complete such a distance is remarkable and commendable. "Running events bring communities together as well as enhance personal growth. This will help motivate, encourage and inspire others to also take up the challenge of running, become active in a healthy and demanding way and achieve their own personal best," he added.
